Add a comments widget to any web page by adding the following line of HTML:

```
<script src="http://js-kit.com/comments.js"></script>
```

It is that easy! Nothing else is needed, really.

You've now installed your own fully functional, threaded commenting application.

If you would like to learn about customizing the functionality or the look and feel of your comments, see the boxed section to the right for some helpful hints and tricks.

This widget is written in Javascript and is free for anyone to use.

How to customize your widget
